

HANDLOOM DAY CELEBRATION AT APSJC

WEAVING: NOT JUST THREADS, BUT THE RICH CULTURAL HERITAGE- “Handlooms are the heart and soul of India's artisan community, embodying tradition and innovation.”

On 7 August, the school celebrated National Handloom Day with great enthusiasm. During the morning assembly, an array of handloom items was displayed, showcasing the rich cultural heritage of traditional weaving. Students actively participated by creating their own craft items, including handwoven bookmarks, small fabric bags and decorative wall hangings. It was outstanding how the students put their creative ideas into something substantial and created enchanting artworks. The day highlighted how the efforts of our cottage industries are still alive in the hearts and soul of our youth.

This event not only marked the importance of preserving handloom traditions but also encouraged creativity and appreciation for sustainable crafts among the students. The Indian artisan industry not only has the ethnic ideas but also has embedded latest contemporary designs as well. The learners learnt to be bonded to their roots yet flow towards the developing era. APSJC has always promoted the traditions and ethnicity of our culture with a gear of global development and sustainable viewpoint.
